Enormous Taxation of Venetia.

Enormous Taxation of Venetia.

Taken as a whole, it must be confessed that the French pay pretty dear for the privilege of being governed. And yet, with the exception of two or three nations, they are less taxed than any other people in Europe. England, Austria, all the German Powers. Spain, Turkey, Naples and the Roman States are all worse off in this respect than France. The taxation under which the Austrians groan is perfectly frightful. Take Venetia as a sample. (I believe there is not much difference in the different provinces of the Empire.) A late Imperial notification and decree relative to the direct taxes that this province must pay in 1860, exacts 43 1-2 per cent. of the gross income of every person who owns any real estate in that portion of the Austrian dominions! No wonder the Venetians find fault with the treaty of Villafanca. But this 43 1-2 per cent. is only the direct tax. Besides this, there are heavy commercial taxes; taxes called the vaglia, which is, in plain English, simply an indirect forced loan; and lastly the charges which saddle property, such as mortgages/registration dues, etc. In this delightful governed and well-taxed country, a man whose estate yields a gross income of $100 pays $43 50 out for direct taxes.—The expenses of cultivation are estimated by a recent writer on Venetia at 33 per cent., or $33 more out of the $100, leaving only $23 50 to pay all the other taxes and charges. By the time the proprietor gets through with all these, he finds his income entirely expended, and all his hard work, prudence and economy yielding him nothing but a bare and often meagre existance, with the privilege of having Francis Joseph take care of his political life.

This taxation, which almost reaches the point where taxation ends and confiscation begins, is producing an amount of distress in Venetia that cannot be expressed in words. Proprietors are giving up their point where taxation ends and confiscation begins, is producing an amount of distress in Venetia that cannot be expressed in words. Proprietors are giving up their estates on all hands to the tax-gatherers, in preference to paying the taxes, and emigration from this province to Lombardy is increasing from day to day.

Taxation of the French Empire.

Passing from French cities to the Empire, Passing from French cities to the Empire, it will be found that the expenses of the latter show a taxation "spread over" the whole nation quite to that of the cities. A few days since, the Bulletin des Lois published an Imperial decree, which states that the ordinary expenses of France for 1860, will be $364,991,500. This vast sum is to be expended by the different Ministers, as follows;

ent! Besides the taxation in the cities Besides the taxation in the cases of France for municipal expenses, and the taxation of the whole people for national purposes, the nation is divided into 86 departments, (something like our counties) each maintaining a certain political organization, for the support of which more taxation is necessary.

National Education.

The arrival of families in our midst, is an encouraging feature of our spring emigration, which has already auspiciously commenced. All young colonies, but especially gold-producing colonies, for obvious reasons, need the influences that radiate from the domestic hearth-stone. This class of settlers alone can give an air of permanence to a country. From the necessity of the case they are usually both consumers and producers, and in each capacity are helpful to communities such as ours.

But families have wants, and among the most pressing of these, are educational advantages. Early attention to these will greatly tend to attract this kind of emigration, and to secure that contentment which alone will induce permanence.

As yet nothing worth speaking of has been done in this direction. We have no public school system. The Victoria Colonial School is an institution which, whatever be its merits or defects, has no very clearly defined relation to the public at large. We confess that we do not know whether the word "colonial" indicates that it belongs to the colony, or that it is one of the establishments of the "Colonial Church and School Society" in connection with the Church of England. Perhaps the name may be meant to include both ideas. Be this as it may, the School does not meet the wants of the It is not sufficiently central. The principal's salary is discreditably small. The tuition fee is a burlesque on the value of a good education. The accommodations and surroundings are inconvenient and unsuitable.

If any of our readers can inform us as to the relations of this school to the colony, the auspices under which it is conducted, the superintendence or board of control to which the teacher is responsible, or on any other points of interest connected with it, we shall thankfully receive the information, and give the public the full benefit of it. To get any information on any subject from official sources, is impossible. Government fears it may be used against them.

Meantime, is it not important that we begin to think of some scheme of national education? Enlightened nations are now fully agreed as to the value of common schools. Other British colonies have won honorable distinction for themselves by the careful provision made for the training of youthful colonists. And though our population is sparse out of Victoria, now is the time deliberately to frame a common school sys tem, that shall be capable of expansion and extension, as the country fills up.

We have had some opportunities of ob-serving the practical working of national education schemes in various parts of the world, and the result is, a decided preference for the Free School plan. A certain portion of the public domain should be appropriated at an early day to educational Out of the proceeds of these purposes. lands, augmented by legislative grants a school fund should be formed, and by equitable apportionment from this fund, and local taxation, schools should be provided, free to our entire population.

We are aware that this system is met by the objection, that childless men are made to assist in educating the children of other people. This is complained of as unjust. But this objection grows out of a very limited view of the subject. Every man whether he has children of his own or not, has a deep interest in the question, whether the children of his neighbor are to grow up ignorant and vicious, or intelligent and virtuous. The value of property is regulated by the intelligence of the population of a coun Education represses crime, and is try. tavorable to public morals. So much so that there is in reality the alternative of spending money in taxes, to support either penal institutions or institutions of learning.

No patriotic mind will be in doubt which kind of taxation is preferable.

Free Schools are of incalculable value to the poor. They present an unobstructed avenue to intelligence, respectability, and even distinction, before children that might else grow up to be burdens and curses to so ciety. There is something noble-morally sublime, in a country so providing for the instruction of its youth, that none, however poor or unfortunate, need grow up untaught.

Nor are they oppressive to the rich. The tax needed to sustain them, is a very trifling addition to other necessary taxation. And it is money well invested, because it tends so directly to promote the advancement and prosperity of a country.

Free common schools do not interfere with select schools, grammar schools, col leges or universities. They indirectly contribute to the prosperty of these, and act as feeders to them. Nowhere do higher institutions flourish more, than where free schools are in vigorous operation.

CONVICT LABOR VS. FREE LABOR .- On Saturday and yesterday the convicts in the chain-gang were employed by the H. B. Company at twenty-five cents per day, to unload a collier at the wharf. The Police Commissioner certainly deserves some credit for finding employment for the incorrigibles placing convict labor in competition with free labor is not the true way to foster the "bone and sinew" of the country. The laboring man we want to see respected and well paid. Twenty-five cents a day to a Company that can well afford to pay current wages is not the way to do it, when labor is worth at least three dollars a day. It is hoped some other less objectionable mode of employment will be found for the chain gang for the future.

STRATAGEMS .- A rumor is put in circulation by a gentleman known as Col. Single-ton that he is bearer of dispatches from the Colonial office, and that Governor Douglas is to be removed. We place little reliance on the statement of the occasionally oblivious on the statement of the occasionally oblivious colonel, although we expect to hear of his dismissal shortly. Such stratagens have heretofore been successful to stop petitions. No heed should be paid to them, but the batteries must be kept in full play till the enemy capitulates.

CAUSEWAYS .- The inhabitants of the north end of town have complained till they are tired of the botch made of the causeways over Government and Store streets, and be-cause they were not completed. From a reliable source we learn that the absent Surveyor General said that His Excellency ordered the non-completion so that the south end of the town would be most improved No private speculation in this, oh, no! It's a mistake ain't it?

MOVE THEM BACK .- Our repeated advice to pull down the pickets next the post office, has at last been hearkened to by all concerned, and down they came last week. Now we want the buildings moved back to the line of the street, the platforms laid properly, and the street improved. Improvement should be the order of the day,—but till this is done, and the bastion and fort pickets pulled down, Government street will be kept in the background. Down with

ANDERSON LAKE STEAMER .- Messis Chapman & Co. imported by the Vickery, a double steam-engine, 25 horse-power, for a steamer to run on Anderson Lake, on the Lillooet route. The lake is distant about 75 miles from Port Douglas, and is 18 miles long. The boilers are tubular. The new steamer for which the engines are designed. is now in course of construction, and will be 70 feet long, 15 feet beam, and 4 feet

THIEVES ABOUT .- On Saturday some light-fingered gent not having the foar of the "Metropolitans" before his eves, took without permission a large quantity of underclothes from the clothes line of a wash-woman at the corner of Fort and Gov ernment streets.

IMPORTS .- Under the head of imports will be found a large amounts of merchandize imported preparatory to the spring trade. The wharves present a lively appearance by the vessels discharging, recalling the busy days of '58.

PUBLIC MEETING .- A movement is on the tapis to call a public meeting some time this week, to consider several questions of vital importance to this and the neighboring province. It is said that among other things to be considered will be a petition for the removal of the obnoxious mule tax, and another for the removal of His Excellency Gov. Douglas. Too much time has already been wasted; and the trade of the country has suffered so severely heretofore to submit longer to mis-government without attempting to apply a prempt and speedy remedy. British Columbia is already on the move, and a simultaneous demonstration in colonies may be expected. Keep the ball rolling, for without the people put their shoulders to the wheel, we will be as far behind in 1861 as at present.

SEATON LAKE STEAMER .- Callbreath & Co. have imported by the birk Vickery, a double engine, 20 horse-power, with flue boilers, for a steamer to run on Seaton Lake. Seaton Lake is within a short distance of Cayoosh, and is only separated from Anderson Lake by a portage of a mile and a half. The steamer for which the engines are intended is about completed. She was commenced last fall, and will measure 50 feet long and 14 feet beam. Her proprietors expect to have her ready for traffic by the of April. With the completion of Anderson Lake boat, freight can be carried to Cayoosh in four days. The rate of freight on each boat will be a half cent per pound or $10 per ton.

HAY AND BARLEY .- The large importations of hay, barley, potatoes and other produce from California and Washington Territory, deserves to be noted by our farmers and all others interested, and if possible the coming season enough should be raised to supply home consumption-and some for export to Columbia. It is hoped the New Assembly will urge ahead the introduction of a better land system, so that land will be cheap and accessible. Then we may hope to raise enough raw produce to keep the money in the country.

COLONIAL THEATRE. On Saturday night there was a rousing house. The acting was good, and everybody was so well pleased good, and everyouty was so wen pleased that they promised to go again. Last night they had a good house. The weather is getting fine, and improvements for the comfort and amusement of the public are being made by Lovell and the Chapman Family in the theatre every day, and the people are expected to turnout, as Lovell wants to prepare for the appearance of some "stars."

THE MANDAMUS CASE .- This interesting ase will again be heard this morning. W want the public to watch its progress as every effort possible will be made to and common usage at defiance. The cause resolves itself simply into this—can the Governor do as he pleases? or will the Court compel him as the custodian of the poll-books to open them to inspection?

Assay Office.- Four gentlemen to be connected with the projected Government Assay Office at New Westminster, named Hitchcock, Claudet, Bacon and Bonsfield, arrived by last steamer.

WESTMINSTER LOTS .- One lot facing the water on one side and Columbia street on the other, in block seven, sold last week for $1573, the original cost. Things are looking up.

H. M. S. Plumper left Esquimalt on Friday last for San Francisco to make s repairs, so stated. She will return in the course of a month.
